

EuPA Senior Scientist Award in Proteomic Sciences 2010

(Deadline 31 March, 2010)

The European Proteomics Association (EuPA) invites nominations for the EuPA Senior Scientist Award in Proteomics.

- This annual Award is intended to acknowledge achievements in the field of proteomics in Europe.
- The Award will consist of a diploma and an honorarium of 5000 €.
- The winner will be announced at the EuPA meeting, where he/she will give a lecture. The registration fee will be waived.
- A biographical sketch of the winner will be published in the Journal of Proteomics and in other Proteomics Journals and will be posted on the EuPA website.
- Candidates must be a member of a national European proteomics society and nominated by any European proteomics society.
- The EuPA Award Panel will be composed of the EuPA executive committee.
- Nominations for the EuPA Senior Scientist Award in Proteomics should be sent to Dr Garry Corthals (garry.corthals@btk.fi) by 31 March 2010.

EuPA Senior Scientist Award in Proteomic Sciences 2010

Nomination introduced by (Organisation):

Nominee: (First Name / Sir Name)

Title:

Affiliation:

The nominee accepts to attend the annual EuPA meeting and give a lecture.

Please fill in the following points.

1. Motivation for choice of candidate (400 words max.)
2. Education and Training
3. Positions, Honours, Awards
4. Five best publications or two major achievements
5. Proteomics activities during the last five years
6. Biographical sketch (maximum 1 page)

